

AppConfig Community

IP Policy

This IP Policy applies to all contributions to the AppConfig Community. Entities may contribute written submissions (including a writing in electronic medium) (each, a “Contribution”) to be considered for inclusion as part of the AppConfig Website, any AppConfig Compatibility Component, and/or the Content Library and under this IP Policy grants copyrights and patent licenses to such Contributions. The terms and conditions are to protect you as a contributor as well as to protect other AppConfig Community members and the public; they do not change a contributor’s rights to use its own Contributions for any other purpose. Each contributor accepts and agrees to the following terms and conditions for its present and future Contributions:

- Except as may be approved by the Promoters in accordance with the voting rules set forth in the AppConfig Community Promoters Agreement:
 - a. All Contributions of software, scripts and other code to the AppConfig Website, any AppConfig Compatibility Component, and/or the Content Library will be made under the Apache License, Version 2.0 available at <http://www.apache.org/licenses/LICENSE2.0>.
 - b. All outbound distributions of software, scripts and other code accepted for distribution through the AppConfig Community will be made available under the Apache License, Version 2.0.
 - c. All Contributions (other than software, scripts and other code) will be received, and if accepted for distribution through the AppConfig Community, will be made available through AppConfig Website and/or Content Library, under the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International Public License available at <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/>.
 - d. The AppConfig Community may require a Developers Certificate of Origin (DCO, available at <http://developercertificate.org>) that is submitted through a designated contribution process which will bind the authorized contributor only with respect to such Contribution.
- Except for a contributor’s commitment to be bound by this IP Policy with respect to its and its employees’ Contributions, no license is granted by the contributor to its intellectual property, and none shall be implied by membership in the AppConfig Community.
- Contributions are voluntary and in no event is there any guarantee or obligation for the AppConfig Community to accept for distribution, implement or make available any Contribution through the AppConfig Community or otherwise. Contributions accepted, implemented or made available may be removed or deleted at any time for any or no reason.
